STUDY GUIDE

- 1. Read through the first half of the Prep Course Book (Outline, Final Briefing and Math Workbook) two times, taking particular notice of any information which new to you. Make sure you understand and can answer all the questions found at the bottom of each page of the Outline.
- 2. Start working on your Analytical and Practice Exams in the second half of the Prep Course Book. Write your answers on a separate sheet of paper, do not write on the practice exam. Grade yourself and try to determine why you missed on those questions you missed. Take the exam again trying only those questions you missed on the first try.
- 3. You should master the Prep Course Book (Outline, Math Workbook and Practice Exams). Mastery of this material requires you to reach the point where you know 90% or more of the Outline and can get more than 90% correct on the Analytical and Practice Exams.
- 4. Use the audio program to help you achieve mastery of the material. Listen to the audio when you are unable to study directly, (example: driving, working around the house, or going for walks). Use the audio program to multiply your available study time.
- 5. If you lack sufficient time to master the Outline, Math Workbook and Practice, divide your time as follows: 50% of your available study time on the Outline and Math Workbook, 50% of your available study time on the Analytical Practice Exams. Use the audio program when you can not be studying by reading.
